William

William Conquerour.

William Duke of Normandy called to conquerour, Nephew to king Edward the confessor, began his dominion over this realme of England, the xv. day of October in the yere of oure Lorde. M. lxxii. and reigned. xxi. yeres one moneth with great cruelnes towarde the Englyshemen, charging them alwaies with great exactions, by meanes wherof he caused dyuers to flee oute of the land, he ordayned new lawes at his owne pleasure, profitable to him selfe, and greivous and hurtfull to the people.

In the second yere of this king Exeter reges regne, the cyty of Exeter, belleo. and Northumberland, rebelled: whych both were subdued, & af-

Kyng Wyllyam buylde certain Castelles within this realme, and put Normans, to be go-uerners in them, who greatly oppressed the Englyshmen.

About this tyme, the king cansed two Cardialles to come fro Rome, where by meanes of the king, they deposed certayne Bishoppes, Abbotes, and Priours Englyshmen, & in theyr place put in Normans.

In the.iiii.yere of Wyllyam Conqueroure, the Danes, inuaded the North countre, & wonne Yorke, but shortly after the king came adroue auaile the Danes, and toke suche displeasure with the inhabitants of that prouince, that he destroyed the land from Yorke, to Durham, that ix.yeare after, it laye vnlaboure-ed and vntylled.

About

About this tyme was a greate debate betwene Thomas. Arch bishop of Yorke, and Langfranke Archbishop of Canterbury, for the Primacy of Englande, but the bishop of Cāterbury obtained, & the bishop of Yorke, made to hym an othe of obeyssaunce.

In the .x. yeare of this kinges of wyllyam warre into Fraunce, where edquerour dyd much hurt, but in this heate he toke suche a dysease, that cost him his life, in his sicknes he made his testamēt, and gave to wyllyam Rufus hys second reigne ouer this realme, the se-uentene daie of Septembre, the yeare of Chyst. m. lxxxix. Some after, William Rufus had take vpon him the kingdome, his brother Robert Courtesse came out of Normandy, and landed at Hampton, to the entente to haue put ouer hys brother from the kyngdome, but the kyng sent to him Ambassadors, so at the last they were agreed that wyllyam Rufus should be kyng, payinge ther.

War with the Scottes

In the.iii. yeare of Wyllyam Rufus, the Scottes warred on Englande, wherfore king Wyllyam provided an armie, & went thither where after dyuers conflicts and scirmyshe, a peace was concluded so that Malcolme kyng of Scottes, was sworn to be trew to kyng Wyllyam.

In the fyrste yere of hys reygne the Scottes entred Engrewe land and the kyng wyth a grete power came to the park of Stanhope, and beset the kyng rounde aboute, but by the trewe son of Syr Roger Mortimer the Scottes escaped wythout battayle, wher by the kyng lost that vyage & al his charges.

Shortly after, at York the kyng married Phillip the earles doughter of Henaude. Then the kynge made peace with the Scottes, and released to them theyr homage, and deliuered into theym theyr charter of in-uenture, called Ragman, as it was sayde by the counsaile of the olde Quene and syr Roger was made Earle of Marche.

And the old Quene and he took pon them the rule, of the whole realme, whereby many thinges grew out of order.

About the thyrde yere of this kynge, the Earle of Kente, the olde kinges brother, supposyng hys brother had bene a lyue, de-

In the .xi. yeare, there was maruaylous greate trouble and discencion in England, betwene the kyng and his counsaile, and other nobles and prelates of the realme. The commons, by the ayde and comfort of the kinges uncles, and other Lordes of the realme that is to say: the Duke of Gloucester, the duke of York the earles of Darby, of Arundell and Nottingham) put to death the prynces of the kynges counsaile and chiefe offycers, and chased the Duke of Ireland, and other out of the realme, for that they caused the kyng to burden his people wyth exactions, & coulde make no iust accopt of the same when they were requyred.
